Thank you for contributing to the IMDb. A detailed receipt for your update is included below. The information you supplied has been passed to the IMDb data managers for verification.

Updates normally take around 7-10 days to appear online, but depending on the type of information submitted and various internal factors, it may take longer in some cases. For example additions involving titles or names new to the database require an additional 7 days to process. If your changes still have not appeared online after 28 days, it can mean we were unable to verify the information or it was in some way ineligible for inclusion. However, you should also check the processing times page for any unusual delays, particularly if your data was in one of the following categories: awards, alternate titles.

For questions on the submission process we recommend visiting the Contributors Help message board.

The reference number for this submission is 130312-113012-201000 and it has been added to your update history.

Vous n'avez rien à faire de plus et il n'est pas nécessaire de conserver cet email.
D'autant que pour chaque mise à jour vous recevrez un email de cette sorte !

NOTA BENE

Tant que la fiche IMDB d'un film (ou téléfilm, série etc) n'est pas créée sur le site, il faut attendre qu'elle le soit pour vous rajouter à la liste...
